1. FOREWORD BY THE MINISTER

The end of the financial year 2019-2020 saw the spread of a pandemic that disrupted economies and production throughout the world. The impact of these disruptions was felt on the African continent where agriculture and tourism play an important role in the economies of many African states. South Africa also had to reckon with the pandemic as agriculture which is labour intensive plays an important part in our economy.

According to the census report released by Stats SA in March 2020, the total land used for commercial agriculture is 46.4 million hectares. The same report shows that the commercial agricultural sector employs just under 800 000 people. When one looks at the figures above it is clear why we need to make land reform, and CPAs in particular, more successful. Considering that just over 3 million hectares of land are owned by CPAs, the necessity to ensure the functionality and success of CPAs cannot be overemphasised.

The foundation of any agricultural enterprise is good management. Decades of landlessness have eroded knowledge and experience that which existed within the black communities before dispossession. As we give equitable access to people who were denied access to land we are also building the necessary capacity to allow them to succeed as farmers. We are sparing no effort in ensuring the success of CPAs.

The food security of the country and economic upliftment of the land reform members are dependent on the efficiency and success of the legal entities managing their farms effectively. In the period under review, I instructed my officials to train CPAs on good corporate governance. Seeing that our capacity is limited we involve and partner with other role-players to increase the pool of support available and accessible to CPAs. It is for that reason that we are entering into partnerships with higher learning institutions to provide support to CPAs.

Minister for Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development.

2. OVERVIEW BY THE ACCOUNTING OFFICER

The Communal Property Associations Act was enacted with a clear intention to provide Land Reform beneficiaries with a simplified legal entity. This simplicity presents both opportunities and challenges. The clear benefit is that communities can register legal entities that do not burden them with onerous regulatory provisions. The downside is that those with intentions to disadvantage the intended members by managing these entities without accounting to the members of the CPA.

This report is a reflection of the work that was done and is intended to give a picture of what is happening in our CPAs, the application of measures to deal with the CPA challenges and what we intend to do moving forward. We always strive to improve the operational environment to ensure that adequate support is provided to CPAs. To enhance ease of access to CPA information, we have developed a module for CPAs on our Land Administration Web (LAW) system. CPA information will be scanned and loaded into the system. We are currently doing a final test run of the system before rolling it out nationally. This system will simplify the electronic storage and accessing of CPA information.

The CPA Strategy was reviewed to reflect the current challenges and new solutions. Training and capacity building are the cornerstones for improving the management of CPAs through the provision of training and skills transfer to the CPA committees. Our report also covers the training and capacity building that was provided to CPAs during the reporting period.

The measures that we mentioned above together with the other interventions listed in this report are intended to create an enabling environment for CPAs to operate optimally and meet the aspirations of their members.

3. LETTER OF TRANSMISSION

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE EXTENT TO WHICH THE OBJECTS OF THE COMMUNAL PROPERTY ASSOCIATIONS ESTABLISHED IN TERMS OF THE COMMUNAL PROPERTY ASSOCIATIONS ACT, 1996 (ACT NO. 28 OF 1996) FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 2019-2020

I, Mr. M. Ramasodi, in my capacity as the Acting Director-General of the Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development herewith approve the Communal Property Associations' Annual Report for the year 2019-2020.

Mr. M. Ramasodi

Acting Director-General: Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development.

Date: 28/01/2021

4. INTRODUCTION

The Communal Property Associations Act, 1996 (Act No. 28 of 1996) enables communities to form juristic persons, known as Communal Property Associations (CPA), to acquire, hold and manage the property on a basis agreed to by members of a community in terms of a written constitution; and to provide for matters connected therewith.

This Act shall apply to a community:

- which by order of the Land Claims Court is entitled to restitution under the Restitution of Land Rights Act, 1994 (Act No. 22 of 1994), where that Court has ordered restitution on condition that an association be formed under the provisions of this Act;
- entitled to or receiving property or other assistance from the State in terms of an agreement or terms of any law, on condition that an association be formed under the provisions of this Act;
- approved by the Minister in terms of subsection (2), and to which any property has been donated, sold or otherwise disposed of by any other person on condition that an association be formed under the provisions of this Act;
- approved by the Minister in terms of subsection (2), and which is a group acquiring land or acquiring land rights and which wishes to form an association under the provisions of this Act.

CPAs are institutionally complex. They administer the land rights of communities fractured by the history of forced removals, often with a dispersed membership and deep-rooted community-specific divisions. The administration of communal land rights and compliance with the CPA Act is management and resource-intensive and requires capacities and specialist skills often out of the CPAs reach. The Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development (DALRRD) provides oversight and assistance to CPAs in assuring adherence to the objectives of the CPA Act.

Section 17 of the Communal Property Associations Act, 1996 (Act No. 28 of 1996) requires the Director-General of the DALRRD to compile a report, annually, on the extent to which the objectives of the Act are being achieved. The Minister is required to table such a report in Parliament.

5. CPA OVERVIEW

Set out below are some of the key challenges, experienced during the year, noting that the COVID-19 pandemic has constrained the implementation of proposed plans and impacted severely on the Department providing oversight and assistance to CPAs because of lockdown regulations.

- CPAs function as an Association that must comply with all legal and administrative provisions of the CPA Act. This is especially difficult in cases where the CPA formed rapidly, and where members had not worked together cohesively.
- The sheer size of membership in some CPAs may bring formidable challenges, and in some cases, the CPA does not have a full list of members.
- The lack of common history brings conflicts amongst members, as well as between members and the executive committee. The requirement that a high percentage of the membership must approve major decisions (such as those to do with ownership, lease, or disposal of community property, and commercial activities) invariably creates logistical difficulties, especially where there is little or no budget available for communication and travel. Taken together these and other considerations bring immense complexity to what might initially sound like routine functions.
- The CPA is a vehicle for community development. Its office bearers have the onerous task of driving a process that results in viable plans for sustainable development. This involves decisions about land use and infrastructure development, but also requires attention to all aspects of human development and community services. This is a formidable challenge when members lack the experience to be able to develop the CPA.
- CPAs must ultimately succeed as business ventures. This involves oversight and management, but even in the simplest case where a CPA provides employment and income for members, this requires EXCO members to have sound business and management skills.
- How most CPAs are formed, in the context of land restitution, means that they seldom ensure that they have amongst their members, people with all of the different skills and competencies to carry out key functions.

5.1. CPA STATUS CATEGORIES

The CPA status categories are explained below:

CATEGORY	EXPLANATION
Compliant	The CPA is compliant with the requirements of the CPA Act.
Partially Compliant	CPAs that are compliant in any three of the five compliance indicators: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Annual Financial Statements 2. Annual General Meetings 3. EXCO list 4. Membership list 5. Land Transactions Note: A CPA can be compliant even if there is no land transaction but is compliant with the other 4 indicators. Land transactions are not compulsory.
Will never be compliant (including Security of Tenure)	It is not feasible to regularise the CPA for reasons that may include severe internal conflict, or refusal to cooperate. These include CPAs that have lost/sold land, no economic activities taking place or CPAs with a large membership list that cannot run effectively. This includes Security of Tenure where land is purely used for housing/residential purposes, labour tenants and ESTA CPAs, where they operate as a village and each household only undertakes subsistence farming.
Non-Compliant	CPA does not comply with the CPA Act.
Deregistered	The CPA was registered, but never received land, has lawfully sold or lost its land.
Judicial Administration	The CPA is characterised by a severe conflict that could not be mediated or there has been mismanagement, misappropriation of assets, fraud, or the CPA is involved in litigation.
Never Received Land	CPAs that never received land or the planned acquisition or donation of land was never made.
Referred to the LRMF	The DALRRD has instructed that the matter be referred to the Land Rights Management Facility (LRMF) for a panellist to assist. The primary purpose of the LRMF is to assist selected dysfunctional CPAs to promote legal compliance with the requirements of the CPA Act 28.

5.2. MEMBERS' LAND RIGHTS

The process of defining the nature and content of land use rights and administering these rights is challenging. It involves defining and distinguishing between exclusive and communal land use rights, determining the processes and procedures for the allocation and administration of rights, and making rules for the sharing of benefits and opportunities such as profit share, employment opportunities, and the payment of dividends. There is a need for communities to have a clear understanding of their rights, responsibilities, and procedures for CPA members and committees. The lack of clearly defined rights and procedures leads to conflict. In several cases, individuals or smaller groups exploit the lack of rules to their advantage to take control of resources for personal benefit. There is often a need to distinguish between resident and non-resident members and their respective rights.

5.3. CPA CONSTITUTIONS

A core aspect of any CPA constitution should be to address the shared rules governing the rights of members to the CPA land. These shared rules are seldom clear or uncontested in CPA constitutions and adequately addressing them requires capacity building and dispute resolution initiatives within communities. Besides, the absence of clear and agreed criteria for membership qualification and the allocation and recording of rights within communities has posed significant difficulties. Many CPA constitutions do not provide for succession rights when members die. They also often fail to indicate whether it is the household or members of the household who have voting rights in the CPA. This lack of clarity often leads to disputes between the members and the committee or amongst the members or within families.

Section 18 of this report outlines plans to address these challenges through further training and capacity building in 2020/21.

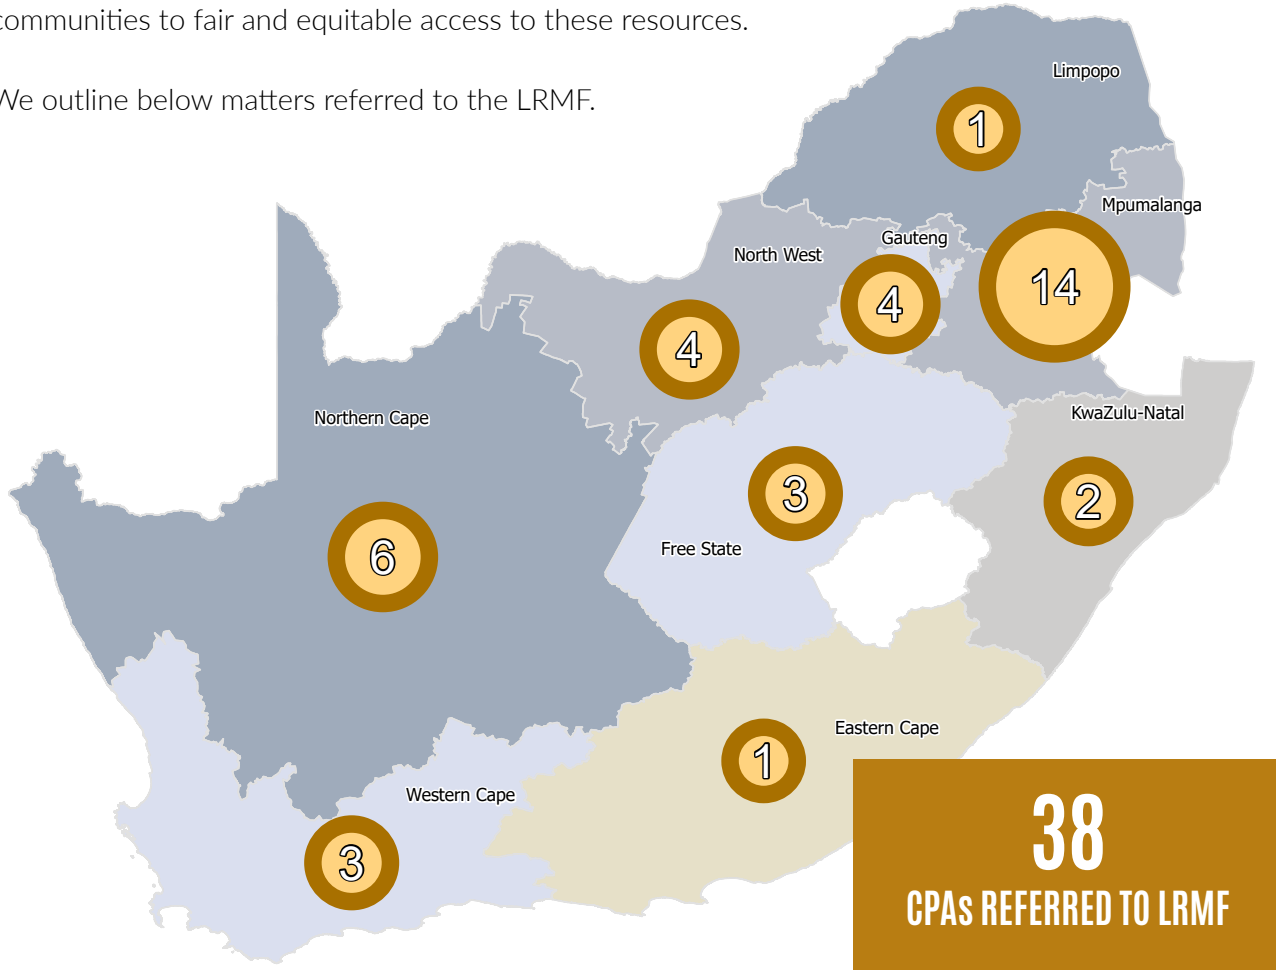

100 CPA committee members trained in compliance and governance in Madibeng Local Municipality, North West Province in 2019.

5.4. PURPOSE OF THE LRMF

The primary purpose of the Land Rights Management Facility (LRMF) is to assist selected dysfunctional CPAs to promote legal compliance with the requirements of the Communal Property Associations Act 28 of 1996 (CPA Act). Some CPAs do not have the financial resources to appoint a legal representative or a mediator, therefore matters which are referred to the LRMF, enable communities to fair and equitable access to these resources.

We outline below matters referred to the LRMF.

5.5. JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

Section 13 of the CPA Act entitles the Director-General, by way of court application, to place a dysfunctional CPAs under administration. This involves the appointment of an Administrator to exercise the functions of the CPA Executive Committee and divesting the committee of its statutory powers and functions. This excludes the committee from the process of managing the affairs of the CPA.

The court-appointed Administrator process has mostly yielded positive results and has promoted the objectives of administration while maintaining a role for the CPA committee. It has provided for implementation to be monitored by the Court while easing the capacity problems faced by the Department in performing the functions of an Administrator.

6.2.SPATIAL DATA REGARDING CPA LAND

The spatial information contained in this report relating to CPA land parcel size and location has been obtained from the DALRRD Land Administration Website (LAW). In compiling the information, the following shortcomings were identified:

- The land parcel size recorded in the DALRRD CPA file does not in all cases correspond to the land parcel size in the Land Administration Web (LAW) system's spatial data set
- There is inconsistent geographic distribution of multiple land parcels pertaining to single CPAs
- No spatial data was available for some CPAs

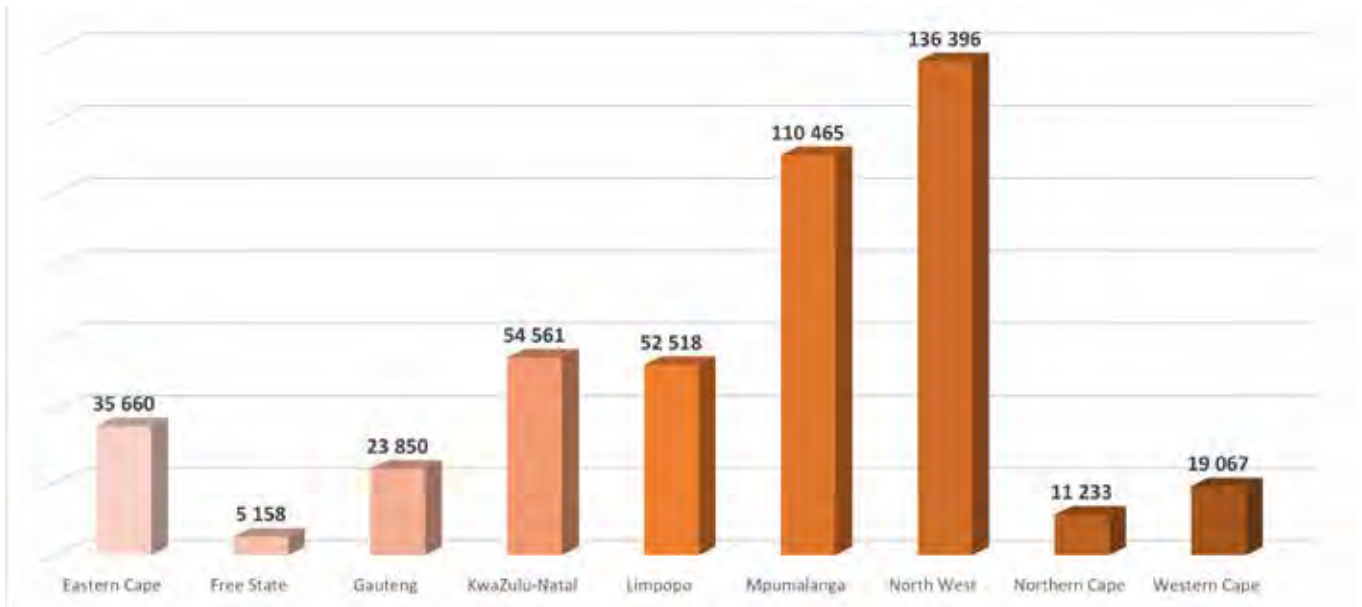

The Department realises that it is imperative, that an individual CPA's spatial information be verified to ensure that the information contained in the DALRRD file corresponds to the actual farm names, portions and sizes of the physical land parcel location as supplied by the LAW system and reflected on the relevant title deeds. This will be a priority focus area in the next financial year.

7. TRAINING AND CAPACITY BUILDING

CPAs TRAINED

The brief description of the competencies needed for a CPA to thrive, as we have outlined in the previous sections, shows that there can be no ‘quick-fix’ to capacitation of CPAs. The administration and training arrangements to strengthen CPAs was a key focus area in 2019/20.

A total of 540 CPAs were trained in 2019/20. The training was aimed at building the skills and knowledge base of the CPA Executive Committees in governance and compliance as it relates to the CPA Act and CPA Constitutions. At the end of the training -

- CPA Committees were furnished with the tools to be able to interpret their constitutions.
- CPA Committees had a robust understanding of the requirements of the CPA Act; and
- CPA Committees were equipped to implement ethically sound governance principles.

Highlighted on the next page are some of the comments and testimonials from these participants –

THE TRAINING SHOULD RUN FOR 3 DAYS. WE GET TO CONSULT WITH DRDLR OFFICIALS ON THE 3rd DAY

Although the target was to train 900 CPAs as indicated by the Minister to parliament, the challenges of the Covid-19 pandemic and lockdown had severely impacted on the training plans for 360 CPAs were postponed in the following provinces -

8.2. STAKEHOLDER SUPPORT

Eastern Cape - Department of Rural Development and Agrarian Reform

The Department of Rural Development and Agrarian Reform provided extension services, such as training on livestock production and assisting the Department in tracking CPAs. Listed below are some of the CPAs that received assistance during the 2019/20 financial year -

- Extension services -
 - Yendella CPA
 - Radway Green CPA
- CPAs trained in livestock production -
 - Delindlala CPA
- CPAs assisted with livestock vaccination and technical advice on crop and animal production -
 - Mpumalanga CPA
 - Masikhule CPA
 - Khanzi CPA
 - Funokuhle CPA

Local Municipalities

Successful interventions depended in large part on effective collaboration and partnership with local municipalities. The LED officials from the local municipality assisted by attending meetings and providing CPAs with access to administrative equipment.

The Eastern Cape Parks and Tourism Agency (ECPTA)

The Eastern Cape Parks and Tourism Agency (ECPTA) has established a stakeholder forum for CPAs that have Nature Reserves on their land. The stakeholder forum provides training on nature conservation. Examples of such CPAs are:

- Chaguba CPA has Silaka Nature Reserve
- Lucingweni CPA has Hluleka Nature Reserve
- Dwesa Cwebe CPA has Dwesa Nature Reserve
- Likhayaletu CPA has Double Drift Nature Reserve

Internal support from other Directorates

Other units in the department have assisted with development funding to ensure that the CPAs are functional and economically active. Examples of CPAs that received funding through the 1 Hectare 1 Household programme include

- Ilifaletu CPA
- Vulithuba CPA
- Malibuye CPA
- Yendella CPA
- Radway Green CPA
- Luthando CPA

8.3. CHALLENGES

A summary of the challenges experienced is provided below.

- CPAs do not update their membership lists and status.
- CPA committee members were elected or replaced without following the procedures outlined in their CPA constitutions.
- Some members of the CPA are illiterate and lack understanding of the CPA constitution and their obligations as Committee Members.
- Old CPA members are unwilling to get their children to serve as a proxy; and in some instances, their children are reluctant to become CPA members or EXCO members.
- Due to internal conflict, some members end up abandoning their membership, making it difficult to update the membership list.
- The failure to convene membership meetings, hold regular elections, and produce financial statements has resulted in a breaking down of trust and accountability within several CPAs. This has proved difficult to rectify.
- Most CPA constitutions require a quorum of 50% plus 1 or more. Achieving quorum becomes a challenge in circumstances where many members do not reside on the land and are dispersed, cannot afford to travel to attend the meetings, or simply fail to attend meetings. This prevents the holding of validly constituted meetings and frustrates the adoption of constitutional amendments, the election of committees, the amendment and verification of membership lists, and the adoption of financial statements.
- The emergence of “concerned groups”, who sometimes stem from either disgruntled former members of the CPA Committees or concerned members or aggrieved CPA members who were promised financial support at the inception of the CPA. These groups occasionally hinder the regularisation process and/or advance their own personal agendas.
- The high turnover rate of committee members causes the CPA to replace committee members regularly contributing to a sluggish implementation of planned economic activity. The absence of productive operations at several CPAs undermines the intended purpose of land restitution as members lose hope in progress and settle for such outcomes as housing and security of tenure.
- Many CPA members are not interested in being part of the CPA and instead want the land to be subdivided. Some would prefer a financial settlement instead.
- Misunderstanding between the members of CPA and Traditional Leaders has also contributed to a patchwork in the use of land where some areas intended for farming or grazing have become residential areas limiting the economic potential of the CPA.
- The high rate of land invasions on land that is administered by CPAs is creating insecurity and needs to be addressed. Land reform must follow a lawful process and invasions only contribute to infighting within communities.
- The CPA land is not functional or economically active.
- Internal conflicts between members and committees regarding the management of the CPA and the CPA land, sometimes lead to perceptions of money being appropriated by committee members and Officials. Therefore, the members end up disrupting meetings and some even refuse to continue attending CPA meetings.
- There are no financial records kept. Some CPAs are reluctant to open bank accounts as no monies are being received and the costs of bank fees are high.
- CPA committee members tend to become dependent on the Department and neglect their responsibilities as committee members of the CPA.

8.4. INTERVENTIONS

Key activities and interventions undertaken during the year are highlighted below -

- Training of Department Officials to enhance the skills transfer process that creates an understanding of the knowledge and skills necessary to administer the CPA effectively and to ensure compliance with the statutory requirements of the CPA Act.
- A series of review meetings were held between the Tenure Reform Directorate and the Property Management and Regional Land Claims Commission to fast-track the issuing of Title Deeds to CPAs. A critical outcome of these review meetings has been quarterly updates on the progress of issuing of Title Deeds.
- Monthly team meetings have allowed for discussion on approaches to handling complex matters.
- Undertaking interventions such as
 - » persuading old and illiterate members of CPAs to get their children to serve as a proxy during the membership update process.
 - » Requesting members who are no longer interested in the CPA to write resignation letters as outlined in the CPA constitution.
- The use of mediation and alternative dispute resolutions to resolve internal conflicts.
- Provided training aimed at building the skills and knowledge base of the CPA Executive Committees in governance and compliance as it relates to the CPA Act and CPA Constitution.

It must be emphasised that COVID-19 derailed achieving certain targets in 2020 and methods of engagement which are not reliant on in-person consultation should be considered.

11.3. CHALLENGES

A summary of the challenges experienced is provided below.

- CPA EXCO and members do not understand the provisions in their constitutions. It can in some cases have no bearing on the actions of the chairperson and does not inform the relationship between them and the members nor guide the day-to-day functioning of the CPA.
- There needs to be recognition by leaders of the CPA of what needs to be done, it is then easier to align CPAs with legislative requirements, but also to make the constitution speak to the realities of the particular CPA. Sometimes the chairperson would use this lack of knowledge against the general membership.
- CPAs are plagued by conflict, around power struggles, different factions, membership disputes, or perhaps related to the way that the CPA was established or is being managed. These conflicts may even arise from longstanding feuds within a community. Different concerned groups scheme and challenge the decisions and processes taken by the CPA EXCO which causes direct conflict.
- In CPAs where there is an economic activity, and companies or cooperatives are set up, there are general issues of a lack of accountability and transparency. This is fuelled by the fact that the people that sit as board members are the same members who monitor the business engagements. There is no segregation of duties which creates a conflict of interest for committee members who may act to their own advantage.
- Various CPAs are not updating their beneficiary lists, and some are not adhering to the original membership list and adding new membership without following due process.

11.4. INTERVENTIONS

Key activities and interventions undertaken during the year are highlighted below -

- The province has focussed on training identified by CPAs.
- The sessions are focused on explaining the reporting requirements of the CPA Act, the importance of compliance with the CPA constitution, with a focus on general meetings, elections of new committees, financial accountability, and transparency around business activities.
- The Officials in the Districts have engaged with dysfunctional CPAs, there are instances where that has not yielded beneficial results and these matters were referred to the LRMF for mediation or litigation.

Mathulii	12/1302/A	666	2116,67	Restitution	The verification of beneficiaries was not finalised by the RLCC, and the amalgamation of claims is further complicating the situation.	The CPA is in litigation.
Oakford	02/0410/A	1253	260,00	Restitution	The project was in partnership with the Department of Housing with the Department of Housing. Some beneficiaries were allocated RDP houses on the CPA property. The beneficiaries of the houses are not necessarily beneficiaries of the CPA. The legitimate beneficiaries of the project are unclear.	The project is under forensic investigation.

Mathulini	12/1302/A	2 Years	N/A	N/A	The CPA has been tangled in litigation since the general elections that took place in 2017. The results were challenged resulting in a court decision instructing the Department to convene another general meeting to elect a committee. To date, the matter is still before the courts as the Department was unable to convene the general meeting due to an interdict by a fraction of the community.	The Minister commissioned a legal team to investigate the merits of the issues in dispute.

12.2. STAKEHOLDER SUPPORT

The Limpopo PSSC received support from South African Police Services (SAPS), the Human Rights Commission of South Africa, South African National Parks, Provincial Department of Agriculture, and the NGO Nkuzi Rural Development.

12.3. CHALLENGES

A summary of the challenges experienced is provided below.

- The membership updates are the biggest challenge CPAs are facing due to infighting.
- Committees do not comply with the CPA constitution and this leads the LPSSC to be inundated with calls and letters from concerned groups.
- Lack of administrative and management skills in the EXCO.
- There is a challenge that involves land disputes and disagreements between members and with community members as well as between members. This can be compounded in the context of veld fires where CPAs lack the requisite equipment and knowledge for firefighting.
- The challenge that land may not be fit for agricultural purposes or that recapitalisation of assets is economically unviable.

12.4. INTERVENTIONS

Key activities and interventions undertaken during the year are highlighted below -

- The use of mediation by Department officials to resolve internal CPA conflicts. However, it can be the case that long-standing feuds are irreconcilable and require a subdivision of the land to private stands.
- The Department has offered training aimed at building the skills and knowledge base of the CPA Executive Committees in governance and compliance. This included record keeping and financial management.
- Officials have assisted with membership updates, elective AGMs, and Committee members' training in their respective Districts.

13.2. STAKEHOLDER SUPPORT

There are no active structures and organisations in the Province and/or Districts that support CPAs. The Province and Districts established CPA District Fora to assist with monitoring, but these structures were abandoned because representatives demanded stipends and transportation to attend meetings. A real challenge, in general, is the apathy that has developed in CPAs which have remained sub-optimal for some time and not accrued benefits to members.

13.3. CHALLENGES

A summary of the challenges experienced is provided below.

- Failure to form a quorum for special or general meetings prevents the holding of validly constituted meetings and frustrates the adoption of constitutional amendments, the election of committees, the updating and verification of membership lists and the adoption of financial statements. As a result, some CPAs are unable to comply with the requirements of the CPA Act and its regulations.
- Internal disputes between members and the Executive Committee.
- Allocation and selling of CPA land to non-CPA members.
- Failure to hold an AGM.
- Failure by the executive committee to account to the members of the CPA.
- An Executive Committee working in isolation from the other members.
- Reluctance by executive members to relinquish their positions and a tendency for leaders to become entrenched.
- Inability to access the restored land.
- Misappropriation of CPA funds by the executive committee resulting in loss of productive economic activity and the need for recapitalisation support to maintain assets.
- CPA constitutions are often not aligned to the specific needs, values, and circumstances of the community and are sometimes in conflict with them. There is a lack of knowledge about the CPA constitution and the CPA Act. The objective of individual members may differ to the point of causing disruptions to smooth operations
- Subletting by some members of the CPA can have the unintended consequence of expanding human settlements and the inability to use the land for other purposes such as grazing livestock.
- Not having business plans and conducting business operations outside the guidelines in the constitution.
- Not maintaining the existing infrastructure – the so-called tendency to “sweat” assets for immediate returns without thinking as to the long-term economic viability.
- The challenge of increasing land invasions and the transformation of CPA lands to residential areas.
- Uncertainty of land use and transfers of land are incomplete or remain in private ownership.
- Lack of interest by members in CPA activities.

13.4. INTERVENTIONS

Key activities and interventions undertaken during the year are highlighted below -

- Complex CPA matters have been referred to the LRMF for regularisation and mediation. Regularisation by the LRMF helped most CPAs to comply with the CPA Act.
- An assessment of non-compliant CPAs was undertaken, and officials assisted them to convene their respective AGMs.
- Assist with updating membership lists of members.
- Assist with elective AGMs such that disputes and conflicts can be settled through the election of new committees to reflect the interests of members.

NUMBER OF CPAs PER CATEGORY

Number of CPAs	189
Number of Members	136 396

14.2. STAKEHOLDER SUPPORT

The Province has undertaken two critical interventions that aim to support CPAs –

1. Established a panel of service providers to provide training services for various CPAs for twenty-four (24) months. The contracted panellists are assisting CPAs to promote legal compliance and sustainability, governance, financial accountability, economic activity to develop their land and create jobs, build capacity, and support transformational ownership.
2. Appointment of an Election Agency to conduct CPA elections, as required. This service is intended to assist the province in facilitating CPA EXCO elections.

14.3. CHALLENGES

A summary of the challenges experienced is provided below.

- Most of the CPAs in the Province are the members of the Land Restitution Programme. Most restitution claims were lodged by Tribal Authorities on behalf of their respective communities, and the expectations were that the land will be restored to the Tribal Authorities which has not been the case. Therefore, the establishment of a CPA within the jurisdiction of a Tribal Authority has often in cases created two competing institutions, both responsible for land administration and allocation, This has created a power struggle. The unintended consequences may vary from land encroachment on CPA activities or the sale of land which becomes to the CPA and a patchwork of uncertainty in land use.
- The process of electing CPA Executive Committee members is not properly regulated and, in some instances, the constitution may be silent on the election process. Most of the Executive Committee members are elected based on popularity as opposed to competency, as a result, this contributes immensely towards non-compliance and poor governance because members assume elected leaders as the obvious business leaders whereas they don't have the technical expertise.
- Most CPAs are struggling to hold elective AGMs because of various power struggles within the CPA. This situation is the result of many people seeing CPA positions as a way of accessing CPA resources for personal gains because no one has ever been held accountable and liable for such actions. This further highlights the problem that a lack of productive activity within CPAs creates as many members then regard the assets themselves as the reward, instead of generating economic returns by using the land effectively.
- Most of the CPA constitutions were drafted not looking at the circumstances of that particular CPA. In some instances, Constitutions need to be amended and aligned to nature conservation consideration, for example. A common feature of many CPAs is that there is an inadequate understanding of the role of committee members and the constitution, and there may be a weak understanding of the CPAs functional purpose.
- Rampant problems of high unemployment and the lack of availability of land for agriculture as human settlement areas have expanded, with insufficient CPA dividends where economic activity is taking place.
- Poor attendance at CPA meetings.

14.4. INTERVENTIONS

Key activities and interventions undertaken during the year are highlighted below -

- During the year, the Province trained a total of ninety-nine (99) CPAs on governance and compliance. After the training, there was a reduction in the number of complaints received, we can assume the training has made an impact on the management of the CPAs.
- There are some instances where the conflict and the level of non-compliance have left the Department with no option but to appoint mediators and has even placed CPAs under Judicial Administration where other remedial actions have failed.

PART E: PROVINCIAL ANALYSIS

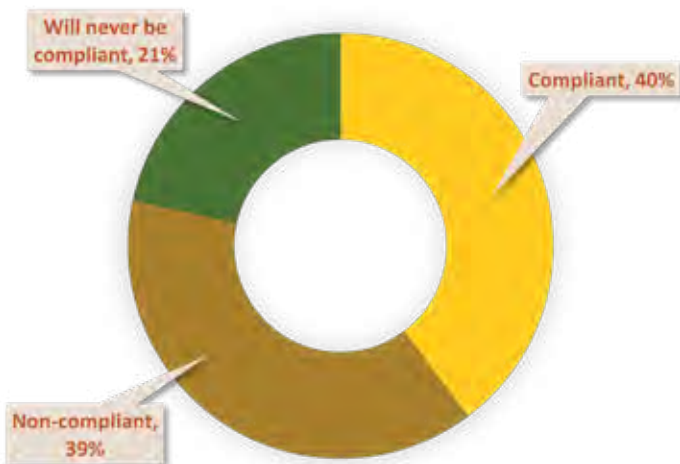

15. NORTHERN CAPE

15.1. DASHBOARD

NUMBER OF CPAs PER CATEGORY

Number of CPAs	96
Number of Members	11 233
Hectares of Land	619 192

15.2. STAKEHOLDER SUPPORT

The province worked closely with the following stakeholders during the year -

- Rotary Foundation
- Peace Parks Foundation
- Wildlife Ranching SA
- SANPark
- Carl-Duisberg Foundation
- Sustainability Institute for Training Cape Town
- Ubuntu Foundation
- Divine Tours/Thrive Africa

15.3. CHALLENGES

A summary of the challenges experienced is provided below.

- Disruptions of AGMs by members preventing the filing of annual reports.
- The involvement of third parties and traditional authorities have in several cases undermined the unity of communities and the authority of CPA committees. For example, traditional authorities often deal with different groups within communities, leading to competition for resources, division, and undercutting of official CPA structures. This can also entail encroachment on CPA land.
- Lack of human resources and infrastructure. There are no permanent administration officers/secretaries, and no office space to file records. Furthermore, in many CPAs, no economic activity is taking place.
- No policies and procedures that guide the implementation of the clauses in the constitution, such as the process for elections; membership registration; land transaction applications; usage of financial resources and assets.
- Not enough segregation of duties between the EXCO and other committees. This may lead to a conflict of interest.
- Disputes arising because committee members receive monetary compensation when serving on the EXCO.
- CPAs not adhering to the original membership list and adding new membership without following due process.
- Other members who opted for financial compensation still want to remain members of the CPA and this frustrates members who were elected to form a CPA.
- A key obstacle faced in many of the CPAs was the existence of a range of forms of intense conflict, both internal to CPAs and externally concerning third parties and concerned groups.
- Cultural and age differences – old age amongst committee members, has led to disputes with younger members of the CPA.
- No clear selection criteria for EXCO members. CPA committees do not have the necessary administrative knowledge and skills necessary to administer the CPA effectively and to ensure compliance with their statutory responsibilities under the CPA Act.
- No economic activity as some registered CPAs are without land or no land has been transferred, or the transfer of an incomplete bundle of land parcels, as judicial settlements on some erf's is outstanding. Several CPAs in possession of the land, lack economic activity due to the absence of operational plans, agreement or interest in proposals – members do not want to farm, for example.

- Disputes over mining permits between members who apply in their individual capacity and a general mining permit on CPA land.
- Many of the conflicts by members against each other or the CPA could not be resolved and led to litigation.
- There is also the issue of land invasions and the expansion of settlement areas thereby reducing the potential for CPAs to conduct productive economic activities.

15.4. INTERVENTIONS

Key activities and interventions undertaken during the year are highlighted below -

- There has been a high level of success with CPA that are composed of fewer members. There is less conflict and members are open to mediation.
- In many cases, disputes could not be resolved within the confines and resources of the particular CPA in question but required the intervention of third parties, like the LRMF. The LRMF has helped dysfunctional CPAs, assisting to regularise where feasible and advising the DALRRD on the appropriate steps to take where regularisation was not feasible.
- Engagements with CPAs that have different faction groups have not been successful largely because there is money involved and members become covetous, as well as instances where monies cannot be accounted for.

PART F: HUMAN RESOURCES

17. HUMAN RESOURCES

17.1. DALRRD CAPACITY AND RESOURCES

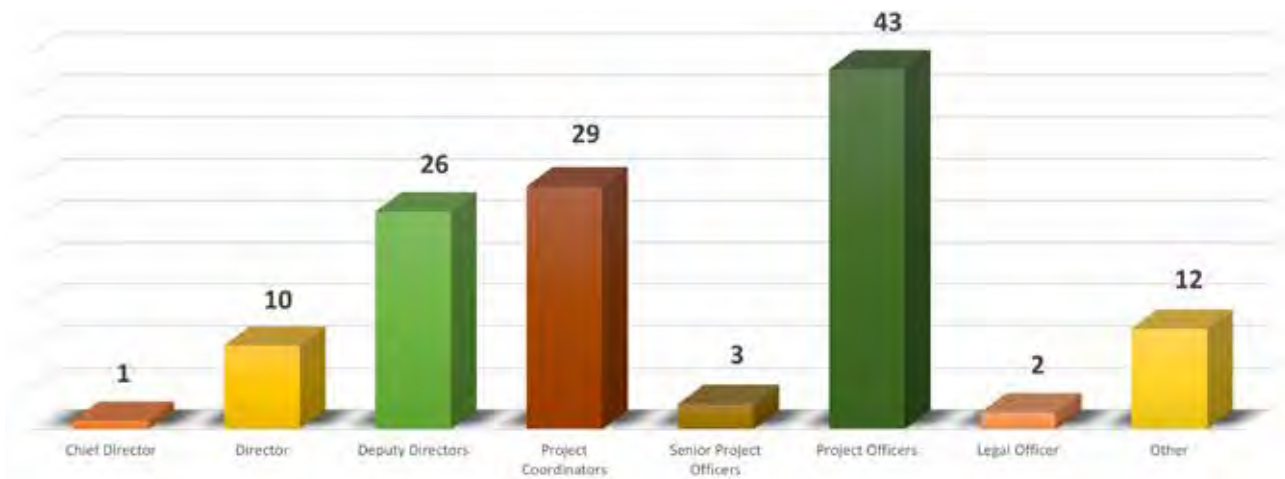

Dedicated institutional, resource, and personnel capacity required for the effective monitoring, intervention and enforcement contemplated by the CPA Act needs to be strengthened in the next year. This would enable national and provincial offices to implement CPA assistance and maintenance plans and provide for more effective coordination between the various sections of the DALRRD responsible for the delivery of support programs to CPAs.

DALRRD support and assistance are integral to the regularization of CPAs, particularly concerning the process of organising community meetings, arranging venues, securing persons to preside over committee elections, and identifying, assessing, and monitoring the challenges faced by communities.

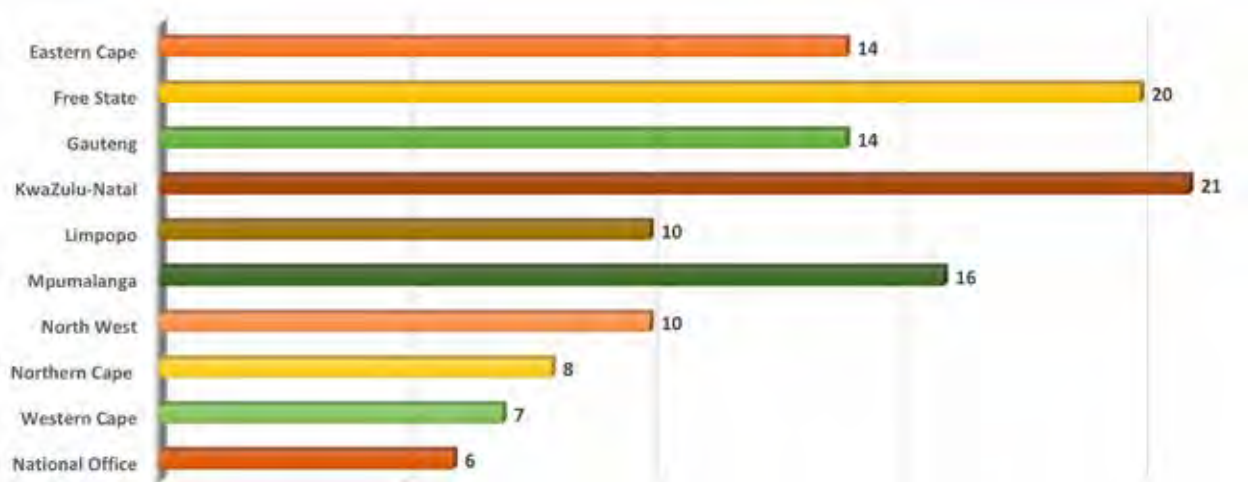

The table below outlines the human resource capacity available per province and job category.

18. STABILISATION & REVIEW OF THE CPA MODEL FOR THE FUTURE

The DALRRD has extensive powers to monitor and intervene in CPA matters if problems exist and that while the CPA Act can provide security of tenure for communities, the most significant challenge is to implement the provisions of the Act. By way of example, it is suggested that the CPA Act allows significant discretion in allocating powers and functions of CPA committees and that this can lead to paralysis in decision-making processes;¹ that committee members are dependent on training and advice from the DALRRD to build the necessary capacity and expertise;² and because CPAs are independent juristic persons, intervention often occurs only when CPA has irretrievably broken down. In this regard, the Department wants to ensure that technical assistance is provided to CPAs during the inception phase and not when they become dysfunctional and fail to manage the CPA properly.

Early in the year, the Department was requested by the Portfolio Committee to agree with institutions for higher learning to build governance and administrative capacity within CPAs. An agreement was reached with Tshwane University of Technology (TUT) in partnership with the Department to organise a conference for CPAs aimed at strengthening CPAs in -the following areas:

- Implementation of proper business systems
- Compliance with SARS, Department of Labour, etc
- Professional Corporate Governance
- Implementation of proper financial reporting
- Implementation of professional farming

Other stakeholders that are involved in information sharing include:

- SARS
- ARC (Agricultural Research Council).
- Land Bank
- Occupational Health and Safety Specialists
- Department of Labour

Plans for 2020/21 include implementing a strategy that aims to -

1. Conduct an audit of all registered CPAs to inform recommendations for a new CPA Model that ensures the security of tenure for Land Reform members and unbundling of dysfunctional CPAs resulting from consolidated land claims.
2. Review the CPA model as landholding entities.
3. Review and make recommendations to develop a new policy on landholding for Land Reform.
4. Vetting of all existing CPA Constitutions.
5. Quarterly reviews for all CPAs referred to the LRMF to diagnose problems.
6. Develop a Training and Capacity building programme for Land Reform members.
7. Recommend amendments to CPA regulations to enforce compliance.
8. Uploading information on LAW.
